records or to obtain dishonestly grades, honors, awards, or professional endorsement."

If you submit any other person's work as your own without proper acknowledgment, you are guilty of plagiarism. Plagiarism includes borrowing any concepts, words, sentences, paragraphs, or entire articles or chapters from books, periodicals, or speeches. In these cases, quotation marks and citations must be used in order to properly acknowledge your sources. If you have any questions about proper acknowledgment, consult any writing handbook.

Plagiarism also refers to copying another student's assignment or paper and submitting it for grading as if it were your own. If you allow another student to copy your assignment, you are equally guilty of scholastic dishonesty. Plagiarism is a violation of the handbook for the UMMC radiation therapy student and will be dealt with by Radiation Therapy Program faculty.

Suspected cases of scholastic dishonesty will be taken seriously.

Diversity

University of Minnesota Medical Center-Fairview is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to its programs, facilities and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, or sexual orientation. All UMMC Fairview faculty members, students, or staff members, and other individuals engaged in any UMMC Fairview activity or programs are expected to respect diversity at all times. Report any suspected incident to the Radiation Therapy program director Patricia Fourtville (pfourti1@fairview.org) 412-273-5107. Complaints will be investigated and resolved in coordination with the Fairview Human Resources Department.

University of Minnesota Medical Center-Fairview policy on diversity can be found in the UMMC Fairview student Handbook as well as the UMMC-Fairview policy manual.
